A family affair at Bridgefield

Bridgefield has reached a special milestone as the brand new community celebrates welcoming its 300th purchasers, and their extended family.

Terri and her partner Arthur were so taken by Bridgefield that they talked Terri's parents into buying the home next door.

Born and bred in Melbourne's West, Terri said she had been searching for a place that was close to her hometown and offered a balanced lifestyle with enough space for her two-year old daughter to play and grow up.

"Bridgefield ticked all the boxes for us. It's close to where we grew up, within walking distance of the Rockbank Train Station, close to schools, shopping centres, and of course our friends and family."

"We loved Bridgefield so much that I talked my mum and dad into purchasing. It was the residents' pool that sold them and they ended up buying the house next door to us."

"Our daughter is going to love the pool too and it's so handy to have our very own Resident's Club right at our doorstep," she said.

The close proximity to public transport and the freeway was another major drawcard for the family.

"My partner and I work in the CBD, so having easy access to both Rockbank Train Station and the bypass will make the commute to work so easy."

As Terri and her family prepare to move to Bridgefield, she said she is looking forward to being part of a close-knit community.

"We're really looking forward to moving into our new home and we can't wait to meet our neighbours – on the opposite side to my parents, of course."
